

Faculty Sponsorship of Computer Accounts: Guest Collaborators

POLICY STATEMENT

The Department of Statistics had a liberal policy in terms of computer accounts in the past. Partly for security reasons and partly for management reasons, that has changed. Guest accounts for collaborators are available to individuals working on projects with department faculty. These accounts are to be used for work on specific projects, only for the duration of those projects. With sponsorship the account will be renewed for six (6) months at a time, expiring unless it receives a sponsorship extension.

RATIONALE

Because of licensing restrictions on some software, use of the computer system at the Department of Statistics should be limited to research which benefits, or is on behalf of, the department. Sponsors must be willing to accept responsibility for sponsored account usage.
